Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-2 and 5-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Narisi et al. (U.S. 6,233,619 B1).

As to claim 1, Narisi teaches providing software enabled functions that open and close inter process communication paths for transmitting and receiving of inter process communication frames (MSS_OPEN_DIALOG, MSS_CLOSE_DIALOG; col. 31, lines 10-47 and MSS_Create_Endpoint_Dialog, MSS_Open_Endpoint_Dialog, MSS_Close_Endpoint_Dialog; col. 34, line 24 – col. 35, line 46), providing software enabled functions that allow the inter process communication frames to be stacklessly transmitted to one of several processors in the network processing environment (a VTL and MSS which allow the ... bypass the conventional ISO network protocol stack; col. 12, line 53 – col. 13, line 32), upon calling an open software transmit/receive IPC path function, selecting by software either data or control path to transmit or receive the inter process communication frames (control path, data path; col. 28, lines 1-11 and MSS_DATA, MSS_CONTROL_DATA; col. 32, lines 13-31 and MSS_Send_Control_Msg, MSS_Deliver_Data; col. 36, lines 5-67).

Art Unit: 2126

As to claim 2, Narisi teaches determining if an IPC path function is a send or receive function, and if a receive function, calling a receive IPC function (Deliver_Data, Deliver_Data_Complete, Accept_Data, Accept_Data_Complete, Data_Notification, Retrieve_Data; col. 21, line 24 – col. 22, line 31).

As to computer system claim 5, it corresponds to the method claim of claim 1.

As to claim 6, see rejection of claim 2 above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Narisi et al. (U.S. 6,233,619 B1).

As to claims 9 and 10, Narisi does not explicitly teach the inter process communication frames include headers to exchange various frame formats. However, Narisi teaches header information of a frame is used to determine the network protocol provider (col. 3, line 63 – col. 4, line 17), the MSS provides a level of abstraction which allows the same interface to be used by multiple platforms (col. 18, lines 16-35), the Data Transfer Header (col. 24, lines 11-28 and col. 29, lines 1-25), and the system can be used to transfer data to and from multiple network protocol providers on each system. It would have been obvious to modify the system of Narisi based on the teaching because it provides a method for exchanging data between different network protocol providers.

7. Claims 3-4 and 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Narisi et al. (U.S. 6,233,619 B1) in view of Isfeld et al. (U.S. 5,802,278).

(As to claim 3, Narisi does not teach determining if an IPC frame to be sent is to be unicast or multicast, if multicast then calling a multicast transmit function, but if unicast then calling a unicast transmit function. However, Narisi teaches a message can be send to one or more applications (the system can be used to transfer data to and from multiple network protocol providers on each system; col. 57, lines 24-35 and the same interface to be used by multiple platforms; col. 18, lines 16-35). Isfeld teaches determining if an IPC frame to be sent is to be unicast or multicast, if multicast then calling a multicast transmit function, but if unicast then calling a unicast transmit function (unicast, broadcast functions; col. 40, lines 1-67 and IP CEC and IP DPMS; col. 43, line 50 – col. 45, line 32). It would have been obvious to apply the teaching of Isfeld to the system of Narisi because it provides a method for custom applications can be developed faster and more cost effectively; col. 2, lines 1-59).

As to claim 4, Narisi teaches closing a software transmit/receive IPC path function (MSS_DATA, MSS_CONTROL_DATA; col. 32, lines 14-30 and MSS_Send_Control_Msg, MSS_Deliver_Data, MSS_Retrieve_Data_Msg, MSS_Receive_Message; col. 36, line 5 – col. 38, line 67).

As to claims 7-8, see rejections of claims 3-4 above.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
